Ordered to File Taxes, Anti-abortionist is Fined

Posted Nov 9, 2007 by permafrog in Politics | 57 views

New Brunswick

A New Brunswick anti-abortion activist has refused to pay taxes. Why? He maintains the religious belief that abortion is murder and the federal government funds abortions. A judge has ordered him to pay the taxes and the fine levied for not paying.

David T. Little has refused to pay taxes and has now refused to pay the $3,000.00 he was fined for not doing so. Little has also been ordered to file his taxes.

Little refuses to pay his taxes because he maintains the religious belief that abortion is murder and the federal government funds abortions.

Little has been give until March 31, 2008 by Judge Leslie Jackson and if he fails to do so. Little must return to court on April 4.

He faces 66 days in jail in lieu of his fines if he does not pay.

Little's lawyer made the argument that as Little has a long history of anti-abortion activism then his beliefs are sincere and not merely an excuse to get out of paying taxes.

The judge stated that Little has not proven that the Income Tax Act interferes with his religious beliefs.
